GENUINE reform never fears to show its hand.

The Morrison bill is having a big boom in Canada.

There are no private papers in the department titles.

PUBLIC office is a public trust not to be administered in secrecy.

SCRATCH the pan-electro plating from "reform" and you find the old spirit again every time.

to the question of Indian transit. We have, on more than one occasion, spoken of this remarkable fact, and have twice printed the language of the President in which we find infidelity to the Monroe doctrine, and no Democratic organ has attempted either denial or defense.

The Minority Report.

The Democratic senators composing the minority of the Senate judiciary committee are, at the present time, preparing a report on the issue between the President and the Senate. It is not expected that they will even attempt to answer the cogent reasoning of the majority report prepared by General Edmunds.

Finding it impossible to do so, they will endeavor to draw attention from the question of the right of the Senate to examine departments of the State by an entire and exhaustive discussion of the power of removal by the President.

Discussion of the question whether the President has or has not the right of removal furnishes no good reason for refusing to comply with the request or direction of the Senate upon the departments of information in the shape of official papers in their custody.

Secretary Lamar is virtually the chief of the patent office and it is not surprising, therefore, that he has demonstrated his skill as an inventor by drawing an imaginary line between public and private papers in the same document.

The resignation of Col. Sir Richard Henderson, chief of the London police, comes not a moment too soon, for whatever may be the extent of his responsibility, or irresponsibility, for the inefficiency of the force he has lost that public confidence without which his continued incumbency would have been worse than a blunder. Two weeks ago last Sunday his men showed cowardice and disgraceful incapacity. Last Sunday, in order to avert bad conduct, they made a violent onslaught on a peaceful and orderly assemblage. In face of such a record retirement was the only course open to the policy indicated by that letter and address.

Clerk Dalton Run Down.

A telegram from Columbus, Ohio, states that the common pleas court has decided that Dalton, the clerk of Hamilton county, must appear with his books before the legislative investigating committee. Should he refuse to do this he will go to jail, which is a much better habitation than he deserves to occupy.

The looks which Dalton has declined to show will reveal the fact that the Democratic party holds the Ohio Senate by a clumsy a forgery as the placing of a cipher over the top of the figure 7 in the footing of a column, making 730 pass for 935. The Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette in a recent issue has the case clearly:

"The people of the District of Columbia have to hold in their places the four senatorial frauds from this country, or they would lose their grip upon the Senate altogether."

This is because their seats are all contested, and the man whose seat it is cannot cast a vote on it himself. Each of the three candidates in fraction.

The whole Democratic party, therefore, must base itself on the title of Brashears as the corner upon which it rests, or give up the Senate.

AMUSEMENTS.

ALBANY'S—Modjeska.

It is said that whatever Miss Modjeska attempts to do will be done successfully. She comes to us this time with a new repertoire, and there was some curiosity to know how she would manage the new roles. It goes without saying that she renders the difficult roles with full finish, and with the grace and agility of a prima donna. In the guests, as did Mrs. Kate L. Maxwell, of Albany; Mrs. Cochran, Senator Pugh's wife; Mrs. May H. Hovey, of Boston; Mrs. Blythe; Miss Benham of Alabama; Mrs. Brooks of Virginia; Mrs. and Miss Davidson, of Albany; Mrs. and Miss Gifford, of New Haven; Miss McElroy, of New York; Miss Claude Moore, of Washington; Miss Hopkins, who came to us from the summer; Mr. Morgan and Pugh; Gen. Wheeler; Hon. Brockbridge; of Kentucky; Mrs. Hopkins; Mr. Muldrow, Hon. D. C. Money, Col. Robert S. Stetson; Dr. S. D. Anthony; Gen. Jones; Gen. Elmer; of Arctic fame; Gen. Shelleys, and others.

Auburn Spring Water.

In Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Diabetes, Bright's Disease, Bilious Complaint, and Malaria, Dr. J. A. GAUNTLET, 142½ N. W. Ave., and Mrs. Marj. John A. Legato, Mr. and Mrs. Marsh, Mr. Woodward of Chicago, La. Mont, Miss Stillwell, Mr. E. W. Fox.

The Army and Navy Club gave the last geriatric dinner of the season.

The permanent exposition project is growing rapidly in public favor, not only in this city but throughout the country.

PERSONALITIES.

G. FELIX AKINS, proprietor of the Light, now in the hands of his son, at the Washington, D. C., Feb. 1, 1866.

A. Y. A. GAUNTLET, who has been in some time very ill, is now in a skilfully conducted convalescence.

Miss Calkins, a charming creation presenting among other delightful qualities kindness, tact, and a fine sense of humor, has come to us from the winter, and the young lady has brought with her a host of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Calkins have dreamt of a finer, more gracious vision in the part than is possible for any girl to play.

The prominent and eloquent performance, "Juliette" is the play for night.
